

RECOUNTING BAGHDAD

By Andra Nita, a second year liberal studies student, and apprentice in the miscellaneous.

How old are you?

I'm twenty.

How old were you when you left for Iraq?

Well, my situation was strange, because I was still in high school, well,

I was in the National Guard, with the military. So, they had to wait for me to finish high school. So, I trained a bit after my junior year, and then I finished my senior year, and then I trained some more, and then I was shipped to Iraq. Just on a side note, to explain, my